Effective Term: Summer 2014
Previous Value: Spring 2014

Course Change Information

What change is being proposed? (If more than one, what changes are being proposed?)
Increase offering by 1 credit hour

What is the rationale for the proposed change(s)?
The course Proseminar for New Students in the Applied Developmental Science in Education Specialization (EDUTL/EDUCST 8081) is one of the foundational courses in GIS ADS-E. This course is designed to enhance students' multidisciplinary and integrative knowledge and research skills in applied developmental science. Throughout this course, students and faculty will discuss various developmental issues, such as language, cognition, to nutrition. We therefore request that this course be increased from 2 to 3 credit hours in order to maximize the width and depth of learning.

What are the programmatic implications of the proposed change(s)?
(e.g. program requirements to be added or removed, changes to be made in available resources, effect on other programs that use the course)?
None, GIS was submitted and approved with 3 credits for this course rather than 2

Is approval of the request contingent upon the approval of other course or curricular program request? No

Is this a request to withdraw the course? No

EDUTL/EDUCST 8081
Proseminar for New Students in the Applied Developmental Science in Education Specialization

Instructor: Tzu-Jung Lin, Ph.D.
Office: 145A Ramseyer Hall
Office Hours: TBD or by appointment
Email: lin.1653@osu.edu (indicate “ADS-E1” in subject line)

Course Description: This course is an introductory professional seminar for doctoral students seeking the Interdisciplinary PhD Specialization in Applied Developmental Science in Education (ADS-E). Applied developmental science is a multidisciplinary field of study that seeks to integrate basic science and developmental theory with applied science on practices, polices, and programs. The major goal of this course is to introduce students to this topic area, its methods, and relevant research. Specific objectives include:

• To promote students’ understanding of ADS-E including its history, major substantive issues, and current trends
• To examine the research methodologies of relevant basic and applied ADS-E research
• To introduce students to the diverse, interdisciplinary work of ADS-E faculty at OSU so that they may align themselves with appropriate coursework, research opportunities, and mentors/committee members
• To allow students to consider their individual scholarly and career goals as related to ADS-E
• To foster students’ professional relationships with one another, within and across departments affiliated with ADS-E

Course format: The course will take the format of a seminar. Students will participate in open discussions concerning assigned readings and presentations from visiting ADS-E faculty speakers. Students are required to arrive to class well-prepared and ready for to participate in course activities.

Readings and Course Information: All required readings will be posted to the course website on Carmen. The course website may be accessed through http://carmen.osu.edu. The website will also be used to post announcements, submit assignments, and post questions/discussion points. Students should check the course website regularly, at least once a week.

Requirements: The requirements of the course include participation, assigned readings, completion of CITI training, an ADS-E career search, and a final student presentation.

Participation (35 points): The course is designed to maximize student-student and student-faculty discussion. Active participation of students in all class discussions and activities is required. Participation grades will be based upon attendance, evidence of preparation (e.g., application of concepts and knowledge from assigned readings to support discussion comments and completion of in-class activities), and contributions to class discussions (e.g., posing thoughtful questions and reflections, responding constructively and appropriately to others’ comments and questions). Absences constitute non-participation and will thus negatively affect students’ grades.

Assigned Readings: Readings are indicated on the course schedule in this syllabus. Readings are to be completed prior to the class during which they will be discussed. Students are expected to read critically, reflect on content, and arrive to class prepared to discuss the key ideas and concepts posed in readings. Students should be a copy of readings with them to class for reference purposes. Completion of assigned readings will be reflected in the participation grade, as indicated above.

CITI Training (15 points): Students are required to obtain certification in ethical and responsible conduct of human subjects research, to facilitate completion of the ADS-E field or research apprenticeship. To satisfy this requirement, students must complete CITI training (see http://orrp.osu.edu/irb/training/citi.cfm for information; training modules located at and turn in a hard copy of the completion certificate on the due date. If students have already completed the CITI training within the past 3 years, they may turn in a completion certificate from when it was initially completed.

ADS-E Career Reflection and Search (20 points): There are numerous, varied careers available within ADS-E. Given the interdisciplinary nature of the field, however, careers may be difficult to identify. As part of this course, students will write a brief paper (1-2 double-spaced pages) in which they identify (a) their reason(s) for pursuing the ADS-E specialization, (b) their scholarly and professional goals related to ADS-E, and (c) at least three specific ADS-E careers/jobs that would allow them to accomplish these goals. Students should attach job descriptions for each of these three ADS-E careers/jobs to their reflections. Reflections ought to follow APA style.

Final Student Presentations (30 points): Students will work individually or in pairs throughout the semester to research a specific ADS-E topic of interest (e.g., child care, teacher preparation, autism). The research must include review of at least four scholarly articles (at least two of which are original, empirical research reports) and one “consumer” article written with the general public in mind (e.g., newspaper or magazine article). Topics and scholarly article abstracts must be approved by the instructor. Students will use these materials to prepare a presentation. In the presentation, students should provide a summary of ADS-E research on the topic and provide (a) at least three concrete, applied recommendations for practitioners or policymakers based on research findings, (b) at least two additional research questions relevant to practitioners or policymakers that could be addressed in the future, and (c) a critical review of the consumer article with respect to its alignment with ADS-E research. Students will share their presentations with their classmates on the last day of class.

Grading: Grades are assigned based on students’ accumulated points across the semester; there is no grading “on the curve”, nor is extra credit available. Late assignments are generally not accepted. If extraordinary circumstances arise and a student wishes to negotiate for extra time to complete an assignment, he or she must contact the instructor before the due date. The grading scale is provided below.

Academic Misconduct – The Ohio State University’s Code of Student Conduct (Section 3335-23-04) defines academic misconduct as: “Any activity that tends to compromise the academic integrity of the University, or subvert the educational process.” Examples of academic misconduct include (but are not limited to) plagiarism, collusion (unauthorized collaboration), copying the work of another student, and possession of unauthorized materials during an examination. Ignorance of the University’s Code of Student Conduct is never considered an “excuse” for academic misconduct.

If I suspect that a student has committed academic misconduct in this course, I am obligated by University Rules to report my suspicions to the Committee on Academic Misconduct. If COAM determines that you have violated the University’s Code of Student Conduct (i.e., committed academic misconduct), the sanctions for the misconduct could include a failing grade in this course and suspension or dismissal from the University. For additional information, see the Code of Student Conduct (http://studentaffairs.osu.edu/info_for_students/csc.asp).
ODS Statement – Any student who feels s/he may need an accommodation based on the impact of a disability should contact one of the instructors privately to discuss specific needs. The Office of Disability Services is relied upon for assistance in verifying the need for accommodations and developing accommodation strategies. Please contact the Office for Disability Services at 614-292-3307 (V) or 614-292-0901 (TDD) in room 150 Pomerene Hall to coordinate reasonable accommodations; http://www.ods.ohio-state.edu/. Please make sure that students know they will be expected to follow Americans with Disabilities Act Guidelines for access to technology.

Grievances and Solving Problems -- According to University Policies, available from the Division of Student Affairs, if you have a problem with this class, “You should seek to resolve a grievance concerning a grade or academic practice by speaking first with the instructor or professor: Then, if necessary, with the department chairperson, college dean, and provost, in that order. Specific procedures are outlined in Faculty Rule 3335-7-23, which is available from the Office of Student Life, 208 Ohio Union.” “Grievances against graduate, research, and teaching assistants should be submitted first to the supervising instructor, then to the chairperson of the assistant’s department.”

Student Advocacy Center: The Ohio State University Student Advocacy Center (http://studentaffairs.osu.edu/advocacy/) is devoted to helping students maximize their educational experiences in the university setting. Their personnel will assist you with a variety of needs in line with University procedures, including verification of class absences due to illness or family emergencies, negotiating and scheduling makeup assignments, etc. If circumstances preclude your full participation in the course, it is recommended that you contact this office as soon as possible.

Statement on Diversity – The College of Education and Human Ecology affirms the importance and value of diversity in the student body. Our programs and curricula reflect our multicultural society and global economy and seek to provide opportunities for students to learn more about persons who are different from them. Discrimination against any individual based upon protected status, which is defined as age, color, disability, gender identity or expression, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or veteran status, is prohibited.

Note: The instructor reserves the right to make changes to this syllabus. Any changes will be conveyed in writing, as per university policy, and posted on the course’s CARMEN site. It is the student’s responsibility to use the most up-to-date syllabus.

COURSE SCHEDULE

Assigned readings are to be completed prior to the class in which they are to be discussed. Please bring a copy of assigned readings to class.
